A Message from Your CO-Presidents

It is hard to believe that we are coming to the end of our first term of office and the end of the fiscal year. It has been a challenging time for us and for the chapter, but we have learned a great deal and have been humbled by the experience.

We must say a loud "THANK YOU" to our current Board members who have worked side-by-side with us through the year to meet the demands that come with a growing chapter. Most will continue to serve, but we will also be welcoming some new members to the Board in July and the mentoring process will begin. Thanks are also in order to all of you who have volunteered throughout the year – we couldn't have done it without you.

We are very excited about our plans for our second term as your Co-Presidents. In this next year our Board will be reaching out to you, the general membership, to find out how you think we are doing and what we can improve upon going forward to better serve your needs. Please know that we are always here for you if you need help with any chapter-related issues. For that matter, any one of our Board members will be happy to assist.

Plans are underway for a general membership meeting this summer at which time, we will offer early study group sign-ups. This earlier date will enable us to form new groups several months sooner than we have in the past. It will also be a time to socialize, meet new people and get to know one another.

Please join us at our Installation Luncheon on May 27th. The flyer is available on our website. It will be a "magical" day. Our last event of the year will be held on June 30th – details will be coming soon. Remember, proceeds from our events support vital medical research being done at Brandeis University in the areas of neuroscience and neurodegenerative diseases. Your donation is vital to this important work.

Thank you for your support,

Your Co-Presidents,

Brandeis National Committee History

Located in Waltham, Massachusetts, Brandeis University is ranked in the top tier of universities in the country. Founded in 1948 and named for the late Justice Louis Dembitz Brandeis of the U.S. Supreme Court, it is the only nonsectarian, Jewish-founded university in the country, known for its academic excellence and ideals of social justice. At the same time as Brandeis founding, eight women from Boston, all leaders in the community, were asked to help in supporting this new university. They were given the task of building on the collection of 2,000 books in the Library, which was housed in a converted horse stable. The dedication and perseverance of these women, who now called themselves the National Women's Committee continues today, sixty-five years later, as the Brandeis National Committee. With over 80 chapters nationwide and over 60,000 members, BNC is one of the largest and most successful "friends of a library organizations in the world. Over the years, we have placed over one million books in the Brandeis libraries, and raised over $100 million for Brandeis University and its libraries, scholarship and research. Brandeis University has become one of the youngest private research universities, with ground-breaking exploration in neurodegenerative and age-related diseases.

Our Conejo Valley Chapter, is proud to be a part of this wonderful endeavor. The funds we raise from our events and study groups help to support the development and expansion of Brandeis' libraries. They are able to purchase books and research journals, restore and preserve books and film, develop information technology, and hire student work assistants. While most of us did not attend Brandeis University or have never visited, we are dedicated supporters to a university that prides itself in bringing together many people of different ethnic, religious and cultural backgrounds.

MEMBERSHIP UPDATES

Twelve new and prospective members attended our New Member's Coffee on Wednesday, April 30, 2014 at Elaine Blonder's lovely home. After introductions, everyone had the opportunity to tell something about themselves. Then, we enjoyed presentations by our knowledgeable board members on special events, the history of Brandeis University, and the Conejo Valley Chapter. We also learned that our Social Justice/Community Service Group helps many people in the community, and our tributes are the perfect way to remember someone. We have over 70 wonderful study groups for our members to join. Many questions were asked, and, of course, our Board was very eager to answer them.

Brandeis enriches our lives by keeping our minds active through study groups, fun events, and lifelong friendships. Remember, you can always check BrandeisConejo.org at any time to see what is going on with our chapter. We want to welcome the following new members into our chapter.

Friends Tell Friends About Brandeis

Did you know that most of our members find out about the BNC because they are invited to an event by a friend?

There are many benefits to BNC membership! BNC enriches our lives by keeping our minds active through study groups, lifelong friendships, fun events, and opportunities to be part of social justice initiatives, while giving back in ways that have a meaningful impact upon Brandeis and, in turn, on the world.

"Sustaining the Mind"

Join the Brandeis National Committee's "Sustaining the Mind: Scientific Research and Scholarships" campaign, raising funds to foster research in neuroscience and neurodegenerative diseases, and to establish an endowed scholarship fund for students in the sciences.

Brandeis researchers in more than 50 laboratories are dedicated to the study of neurological disorders such as Alzheimer's disease, ALS (Lou Gehrig's disease) and Parkinson's disease. The worldwide incidence of dementia (including Alzheimer's disease), currently exceeds 35 million and is predicted to double every 20 years.

The Study Group Team is Bigger and Better!

The current Study Group Team includes Bonnie Gould, Sue Geiger, Timmie High, Jass Weinstein, Sam Goldberg, and Nancy Minkow with frequent help and support from member emeritus Rita Zarrell and Co-President, Carol Smith.

At our meeting on Monday, we welcomed two new members for next year. Robert Tanowitz will be keeper of the rosters, making sure they are up-to-date and disseminated so that we'll all be on the same page. Stan Smith will be in charge of creating and updating all of the forms we will need.

We are also adding three Registrars: Nancy Minkow, Barbara Hoffmann, and Bobbi Albert, who will collect study group fees and send them on to the Treasurer. With nearly seventy study groups to manage and new groups to form in the fall, our current study group vice presidents, whose portfolios currently include more than twenty groups each, are very grateful for the help.

As an example of the many educational and entertaining activities of our study groups, Family Finders, the Jewish genealogy group, welcomed Rabbi Michele Paskow of Temple B'nai Emet in Simi Valley to our April meeting. She shared her knowledge of Jewish customs and beliefs surrounding death and remembrance of our loved ones. This topic fit well with our quest to dig into our own pasts and keep our forebearers alive in our memories.

A new approach to treating Alzheimer's disease (By Leah Burrows April 22, 2014)

A stronger cellular disposal system may slow the progress of Alzheimer's

Cellular processes are not perfect. They, like us, make mistakes. But the cell has systems to deal with mistakes. A protein complex called retromer acts like a cellular garbage truck, collecting faulty gene products and trafficking them to be destroyed or recycled.

For years, Alzheimer's research has focused on preventing the formation of amyloid-beta with little success. But instead of trying to stop mistakes, what if researchers improved the system for dealing with them?

A team of researchers from Brandeis University, Columbia University Medical Center (CUMC) and Weill Cornell Medical College did just that. They have devised a novel approach to the treatment of Alzheimer's disease that significantly increases retromer levels while decreasing amyloid-beta levels in neurons, without harming the cell. The study was published April 20 in the online edition of the journal Nature Chemical Biology.

At Brandeis, Dagmar Ringe, the Harold and Bernice Davis Professor in the Departments of Biochemistry and Chemistry and Gregory Petsko, professor emeritus of biochemistry and chemistry, led the research team,

This is the first time researchers have found a way to pharmacologically strengthen the retromer complex. The scientists identified compounds called pharmacological chaperones that bind to retromer's weakest points, making the complex stronger, more resilient and better able to move amyloid-beta. When the chaperone, named R55, was added to neurons in cell culture, it bound to and stabilized retromer — like reinforcing a garbage truck with stronger parts. Researchers saw an almost immediate increase in retromer levels and a decrease in amyloid-beta levels.

Ringe cautioned that this research is not a cure for Alzheimer's but a potential treatment. "This research cannot stop the progress of Alzheimer's once it is diagnosed," she says.

IN SUPPORT OF BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY

BRANDEIS PROFESSOR APPOINTED TO PRESIDENTIAL NEUROSCIENCE "BRAIN TRUST"

President Barack Obama recently unveiled a $100 million initiative aimed at understanding the function of the human brain.

Neuroscientist, Eve Marder, Brandeis '69, a professor of neuroscience at Brandeis and director of their Division of Science, is one of 14 scientists appointed to the initiative's "brain trust".

Brandeis is the smallest research university to be represented on the advisory board. Obama's BRAIN (Brain Research through Advancing Initiative Neurotechnologies) initiative will research brain function and their interactions. This will advance the understanding of how the brain produces complex thoughts and behaviors, and provide insight into devastating diseases such as Parkinson's Alzheimer's and Autism.

Pictures From Books 'N Brunch:

On April 2, 2014 we held Books 'N Brunch at the Sheraton Agoura Hills Hotel. Marcia Clark told us how she became an author and filled us in on unknown facts from the O.J. Simpson trial. Lee Goldberg had us in stitches. Not only is he a writer, author and producer, but proved himself to be a fabulous stand up comedian. Jennifer Kaufman, author of Freud's Mistress, spoke about the possibility of an affair between Sigmund Freud and his sister-in-law. This event was one of our most successful Books 'N Brunch. And, now to our Fall Luncheon and Boutique, which will be held at the Hyatt Westlake on September 29. Radio personality Bill Handel will be our guest speaker. Anyone interested in joining the Major Events Committee, please contact Barbara Polisky 818-991-2667. The committee plans our two big events each year. If you have any special skills, we are always interested.
