

Once upon a time in the Brandeis land of Conejo Valley there resided many Jewish Princesses and one token Prince

The first authentic JP is Jessica Pearlman, my partner in crime.
Together we get things done, all in good time.
She does the agenda, presides in meetings, and shares the responsibility
Without her, the job of Presidency would be an impossibility

The second legitimate JP is Judy Perlman, Re-Enrollment Retention
She persistently emails, calls, and nudges until everyone has her attention.
No one gets under the radar with her.
Beware, you would not want interest to incur.

Diane Cohan, our Recording Secretary bar none
She efficiently and speedily gets the work done.
Before we can catch our breath it is time to proofread.
We scrutinize and advise and then we proceed.

Elaine Leff, our Membership Chair invites perspectives to a coffee and questionnaire.
She enthusiastically talks up our Brandeis Chapter.
Then to the study group VP she does refer

Janet Brasler is the veteran of the study group VP's,
She handles her position with such poise and ease
In her quiet demeanor she establishes a monthly e-blast of openings in study groups for our members forecast

Florence Prushan VP of portfolio B took over the job from little old me.
With confidence she took control and guided new members on how to enroll.

Elaine Leff, VP of Portfolio C took over the job from Jessica P Capable of handling two positions without a Degree
she is certainly deserving of more than a B

Barbara Polisky, Major Event
agonizes over whom we should present
She scours the horizons and then asks our consent on her choice of program and her intent

Barbara Peifer, in charge of tributes chooses birthday, get-well, and congratulations that suits.
Very efficient in the job that she holds Executes the greetings as soon as she's told

Carol Smith, Leadership
with a creative agenda and a unrevealed hot tip that there is something secretive in the air and in due time this chairman will share.
Another endeavor is selling Brent's gift card.
A worthy fundraiser you cannot disregard

Social Justice, Penny Greenblatt has such great ideas like a diplomat.
Knitting for the armed forces, sending shoes for the soul feeding the poor. What's our next goal?

Social Justice, Janet Brasler with Penny she does confer.
Adding her own agenda to the team
Together they are held in the highest esteem.

Treasurer, Judith Stalk
has no time for girl-talk.
She is efficient and on time in her report.
Balances the budget to avoid being short

Corresponding Secretary, Barbara Muler
Carries on correspondence unrelated to any other officer

Parliamentarian, Honey Bencomo, our reporter keeps us in line with Roberts Rules of Order.

Information Officer, Roseanne Lieban
imparts educational Brandeis information that holds our attention span.

Our Historian, Helene Lustig
creates a scrapbook of our yearly shindigs

Sue Geiger, Special Events enthusiastically researches to her content.
With Nancy Minkow she finds good talent in our local area which prevents her from having a major hysteria.

Susan Barnett, a jack of all trade
Nominating committee, Major events, and Constant Contact's visual aid

Our Registrar's Jenna Katz, Diane Cohan and Timmie High keep track of study group payments and constantly rectify.
They work hard to precisely calculate.
Making sure everything is up to date.

Fredda Katz our director of MOC collects dues and now she is carefree.

Membership Registrar, Madeline Ellis who keeps trying to quit Enters information in the database she has to admit

Men's Participation, Paul Fisher our enthusiast continues to create new men's study groups to our list.
We applaud his determination and motivation to procure more men for our organization

Computer Services, Susan Uhler
How could we possibly function without her?
She is technically savvy, creates the database runs the reports and stores every item in its place.

Webmaster, Alvira Klain
has to ascertain
what local and national information goes on line

and then she manipulates, edits and refines

Publicity, Rita Zarell spreads the word of all the Brandeis activities. Have you heard?
She seeks publications that will give us space to advertise our Chapter's news. She's a saving grace.

Decorating, Marsha Goldin
Is so creative and ready to begin.

Installation, Judy Elkins is a pro
Always making this a top-notch show
She is very qualified and organized so that every individual will be recognized

Nominating Chairman, Elaine Bercy
in agony she stated "Please have mercy!"
Then she dug in, with her committee and contacted everyone and ended up filling every position. A job well done!

Collectively we have produced the greatest Board of all because individually you are on the ball.
Jessie and I thank you from the bottom of our heart for stepping in and effectively doing your part.
