Presented by Associate Professor Of Biology
Melissa Kosinski-Collins, PhD

Professor Melissa Kosinski-Collins is an Associate Professor of Biology at Brandeis University. Professor Kosinski-Collins received her Ph.D. from MIT studying protein folding and aggregation in the laboratory of Jonathan King. Professor Kosinski-Collins completed a postdoc in Graham Walker's HHMI Education Group contributing to the development of tools, such as StarBiochem, for teaching undergraduate biology courses and interactive exercises for Experimental Biology (MIT course 7.02) and Introductory Biology (MIT course 7.01). At Brandeis, Professor Kosinski-Collins has redesigned and taught a variety of courses including the introductory biology laboratory series, non-majors courses on protein folding diseases, graduate classes in protein structure and molecular biology and education courses on assessment and learning in science education.

Melissa will explain to us why our brain functions perfectly well for 60 years and then suddenly begins to self destruct at an alarming rate at our age.

BNC Mission Statement:

Brandeis National Committee is dedicated to providing philanthropic support to Brandeis University, a distinguished liberal arts and research university founded by the American Jewish community. Its membership is connected to the university through fundraising and through activities that reflect the values on which the university was founded: academic excellence, social justice, nonsectarianism, and service to the community.

A Message from Your CO-Presidents

Dear Members,

Recently we were reminded how much Brandeis University has changed the world and it was an eye opener for us. We were like many of you all, study group addicts who joined BNC to make friends and keep our brains alert with some very interesting new experiences.

Our first realization was how Brandeis changed the quota system. You must remember how our families worried when many of our friends decided to become engineers and doctors. How could they ever get into a decent university? Well, when Brandeis was founded in 1948, their first goal was to have a school with no quotas, open to everyone. That was an unheard of undertaking but they accomplished it.

The next huge venture was to become a well respected research university. With the help of grants, outstanding faculty, and inquisitive, dedicated students, this was also accomplished. First they developed Smart Balance products to allow us to control our cholesterol and enjoy the buttery taste and then they attacked a whole series of neurodegenerative diseases. A few years ago the women of BNC raised enough money for an entire lab and it is state of the art. We will soon be hearing of a cure they will develop for one of today's horrible diseases. That we are very sure of.

They have developed a way of digitizing old books so that they are preserved for eternity.
Lastly we heard they were working on a book from the 1700's. Very different from the 8 women who founded BNC in order to get books for the school library!

Marsha Rosenblum and Ellie Puls

More than 75% of the students at Brandeis receive some sort of financial support.

All of these things add up to not only an innovative university, but an enterprise that we can "kvell" about. So now we do not just enjoy our study groups, we are proud of them. That, of course, means enjoying our special events also. Our annual Chanukah Party this year is at Temple Etz Chaim on December 10th at 11:30. We are very lucky that Cantor Pablo Duek will entertain us. On January 9, 2013 at 1:30 at the Thousand Oaks Library, Melissa Kosinski-Collins, a distinguished professor from Brandeis, will speak to us about "When Good Proteins Go Bad" as part of the University on Wheels series. Come and take part in our Brandeis "addiction", have fun, enjoy good company, and accomplish more than you think.

CIO REPORT - Harriet Maran:

A Visit to Syrian refugees in Jordan is an eye opener
Chen Arad and Natan Odenheimer met as roommates in their first year at Brandeis last year, and have become good friends. This summer, Arad visited Odenheimer at the Jordanian University in Amman, where he was studying Arabic. Together, they traveled to the Syrian-Jordanian border, where they met two families of Syrian refugees who shared their stories. Feeling that there is a lack of personal first-hand accounts by Israelis in the Israeli media regarding the conflict in Syria, they decided to write an article describing their experience. It was subsequently published as a front page article on "ynet," the mostly widely read news website in Israel. Arad translated it into English for Brandeis NOW. It was a wonderful article, too long for this bite. If you are interested in reading the whole article, go to www.brandeis.edu/now. It is very eye-opening.

Brandeis University policy for sharing names

"It is the policy of Brandeis University, the Brandeis National Committee, and the Conejo Valley Chapter that membership lists and event registration lists may not be shared with other organizations. They are the property of the Conejo Valley Chapter. In order to insure the privacy of each individual, our members may not use our lists for any purpose other than that for which they were created."

MEMBERSHIP UPDATES

Membership Happening: New Member Coffee

On October 17, the Conejo Valley Chapter held a very successful New Member Coffee. Fourteen new and prospective members were welcomed by Bobbi Albert, Membership Vice President, to the lovely home of Elaine Blonder.

As we went around the room, everyone had the opportunity to tell something about themselves and found much in common. Then we enjoyed presentations by our enthusiastic and knowledgeable Board Members on Events and Fundraising, History of Brandeis University, and the Conejo Valley Chapter. Our Community Service Committee is very helpful to people in need, and our tributes are the perfect way to remember someone. Our wonderful study groups have grown over the past year and there are over 70 groups for our members to join. Our new members had many questions, and of course, our Board was eager to answer them. Five couples and one single joined our chapter at the coffee, and we look forward to having all our new members as part of our Conejo Valley Chapter. Remember you can always check Brandeis Conejo.org at any time to see what is going on with our chapter.

MEMBERSHIP LUNCHEON AND BOUTIQUE

Nostalgia was in the air at our 7th Annual Membership Boutique and Luncheon on September 11, 2012 as composer, producer and performer Charles Fox entertained us with his award-winning songs from such television hits as "Happy Days", "Laverne & Shirley" and "Love Boat". We sang and swayed to the music he wrote for recording artists such as Barry Manilow, Jim Croce and Roberta Flack and all this followed a delightful morning of shopping, a delicious buffet lunch and conversations with friends new and old. The Silent Auction was a huge hit with new and "slightly used" items, gift certificates and event tickets awarded to many happy attendees.

Our Western Region Co-Presidents Sharon Cohen and Honey Bencomo were beaming as they presented our Chapter awards from the National Committee which made us all proud.

Best of all, we set a new chapter fundraising record for this event with a profit of approximately $9900. Congratulations go out to the Fundraising Committee and a big "thank you" to everyone who volunteered their time to make this one of the most successful chapter events ever. The biggest thanks of all, however, belong to all of you who attended and those who could not attend but still donated. Our chapter belongs to you, exists because of you and thrives because of your support!

Our next event, Books 'N Brunch, will take place on March 20, 2013. Mark your calendars. We hope to have some very interesting speakers. You know you can count on the good food at North Ranch Country Club and the good time spent with friends.

“Sustaining the Mind”

This year, the Brandeis National Committee's philanthropic focus is a $3 million, 3-year initiative called “Sustaining the Mind: Scientific Research and Scholarships,” which is aimed at research on neurodegenerative diseases and establishing an endowed scholarship fund for students in the sciences.

Brandeis researchers in more than 50 laboratories are dedicated to the study of neurological disorders such as Alzheimer's disease, ALS (Lou Gehrig's disease) and Parkinson's disease. The worldwide incidence of dementia (including Alzheimer's disease), currently exceeds 35 million and is predicted to double every 20 years.

The Brandeis campaign's motto is: “Much has been accomplished; more needs to be done.”

To help in this campaign we ask you to support our fundraisers, consider Brandeis National Committee when you donate and ask your friends and relatives for help with this important effort.
